AUGUST FEATURED BEERS
(House beers on the other side)

The Deutschland Tour (Tour of Germany) has become a huge success after becoming part of the UCI ProTour, and is set to become one of the truly great stage races in professional cycling. It offers nine-days of challenging racing on every kind of terrain. In 2007, local hero Jens Voigt of the CSC team again captured the hearts of the German cycling fans by fighting for overall victory and the prestigious leader's yellow jersey. It was the powerful German rider's second consecutive success and he became the first rider to take back to back victories. With this Tour in mind we feature three very different German beers for your enjoyment this month along with a few of our favorites from other parts of the world.

Beck's Premium Light, Germany | $3.75, bottle
